

Vancouver, B.C.

December 14, 2011

(PROCEEDINGS RECONVENED AT 10:03 A.M.)

THE REGISTRAR: Order. This hearing is now resumed.

THE COMMISSIONER: Yes.

MR. VERTLIEB: Thank you, Mr. Commissioner. This morning will be a day for dealing with some procedural issues. We won't need to spend the whole day. We have a couple of things that do need to be dealt with. One, Mr. Nathanson wishes to address you for a few minutes on a matter that's important to him; and then I would like to discuss the witness list and how that's developing, because that's still a work in, in process.

THE COMMISSIONER: All right.

MR. VERTLIEB: So, perhaps first we could hear from Mr. Nathanson.

THE COMMISSIONER: Thank you. Mr. Nathanson.

MR. NATHANSON: Good morning, Mr. Commissioner. I appreciate being given the time to speak to you briefly about a matter.

THE COMMISSIONER: Yes.

MR. NATHANSON: I have read the cross-examination of DC LePard by Mr. Roberts and your comments on December 1st of 2011, and I would like to address you with

1 respect to those.

2 I have handed up a brief booklet. At tab 1
3 is the Chapter 8 from the quote of professional, 4 Professional Conduct Handbook, and if you turn to 5 the last page, under footnote number 1, it deals 6 with counsel and his role or her role in cross-7 examination.

8 The Supreme Court of Canada in R. v. Lyttle
9 reviewed the question what foundation counsel 10 must have before cross-examining a witness on 11 an issue and concluded that a lawyer may 12 pursue any hypothesis that is honestly
13 advanced on the strength of reasonable 14 inference, experience or intuition.

15 At tab 2, is the case of R. v. Lyttle, the 16 decision of the Supreme Court of Canada, the 17 judgement of Justices Major and Fish. And if I 18 could ask you please to turn to page 9, paragraphs 19 46 to 48. Page 9, paragraph 46.

20 THE COMMISSIONER: Yes.

21 MR. NATHANSON: This appeal concerns the constraint on 22 cross-examination arising from the ethical 23 and legal duties of counsel when they allude 24 in their questions to disputed and unproven 25 facts. Is a good faith basis sufficient or

1 is counsel bound, as the trial judge held in 2 this case, to provide an evidentiary
3 foundation for the assertion?

4 Unlike the trial judge, and with 5 respect, we believe that a question can be 6 put to a witness in cross-examination
7 regarding matters that need not be proved 8 independently, provided that counsel has a 9 good faith basis for putting the question.
10 It is not uncommon for counsel to believe 11 what is in fact true, without being able to 12 prove it otherwise than by cross-examination; 13 nor is it uncommon for reticent witnesses to 14 concede suggested facts -- in the mistaken 15 belief that they are already known to the 16 cross-examiner and will therefore, in any 17 event, emerge.

18 In this context, a "good faith basis" is 19 a function of the information available to 20 the cross-examiner, his or her belief in its 21 likely accuracy, and the purpose for which it 22 is used. Information falling short of 23 admissible evidence may be put to the 24 witness. In fact, the information may be 25 incomplete or uncertain, provided the

1 cross-examiner does not put suggestions to 2 the witness recklessly or that he or she 3 knows to be false. The cross-examiner [and 4 this is the point] may pursue any hypothesis 5 that is honestly advanced on the strength of 6 reasonable inference, experience or 7 intuition.

8 At tab 3, Mr. Commissioner, is an extract 9 from your comments at the beginning of the day on 10 December 1, 2011. They could be taken, whether 11 you intended this or not, they could be taken as a 12 criticism of Mr. Roberts for his cross-examination 13 of DC LePard and the suggestion that DC LePard was 14 lying or not telling the truth with respect to a 15 particular matter.

16 I note at tab 3 you say this, commencing at 17 line 14:

18 I am very troubled by some of the allegations 19 that were made yesterday, specifically the 20 allegation that this witness, DC LePard, was 21 lying. I am troubled by those allegations
22 and I am taking the unusual step at this 23 stage to say that I see no evidence of that, 24 none. I see at most a strong difference of 25 opinion between Mr. Roberts and the deputy

1 chief.

2 And I pause here to say, of course, that the 3 evidence in this inquiry is at a very early stage.
4 Dropping down a line, to 25:

5 But when allegations of that sort are made,
6 inflammatory in nature, they can reverberate
7 and have consequences. And it must be kept 8 in mind that we must treat witnesses with 9 respect.

10 And I pause, and certainly counsel must treat 11 witnesses with respect, but if counsel honestly 12 believes that there is a basis for putting a 13 proposition to a witness in cross, that is, in my 14 respectful submission, the prerogative of counsel 15 and, and counsel must be permitted to act in the 16 interests that counsel is advancing.

17 And I say, Mr. Commissioner, I have a great, 18 the greatest of respect for you, as I think you 19 know, but I think that these comments may have 20 been mistaken by you and, and I think it should 21 not be left for Mr. Roberts to make the 22 submission, so I am making it today.

23 Let me go on, just to complete the thought.
24 If I carry on in the transcript, the second page, 25 at line 9:

1           And I am just troubled by those allegations
2           and, as I said a moment ago, there is no
3           evidence here so far that he has lied, and I 4           want to make that clear. Again, I preface my 5           remarks by saying that I -- I'm not 6           prejudging the case. At the end of the day 7           I'll have to decide issues of credibility and 8           I'll have to make some findings of fact, but 9           I would ask the lawyers here to be careful in 10          cross-examination.

11          And then you speak about the serious 12          allegations and, and matters being, passions being 13          high. And at line 24:

14                 ... this witness, who, as I said again -- I 15                 said a moment ago, and I'll say it again, has 16                 been consistent throughout in his position, 17                 in his honestly held opinion.

18          Well, it is an early stage, and for you to, 19          to declare this is his honestly held opinion has 20          the appearance of, of prejudging --

21    THE COMMISSIONER: Not at all, and I am going to cut you off
22          there, Mr. Nathanson. That isn't what I said. I 23          said, yes, it's an honestly held opinion, but 24          that's subject to, to further change. I mean, it 25          may well be, at the end of the day, that I will be

1 convinced otherwise.

2 But, you know, first of all, I don't want to 3 get sidetracked on this, what I consider to be a 4 side issue. The inquiry here has important
5 functions to perform. And, you know, I'm, I'm 6 hearing you as a matter of courtesy, but I want to 7 say at the outset, there is no suggestion at any 8 time that Mr. Roberts acted unethically or acted 9 improperly. His reputation in the bar here in 10 Western Canada is well-known. He's one of the 11 best counsel in Western Canada. He's appeared 12 before the courts for over 40 years. So, there is 13 no suggestion at all that he acted improperly or 14 he is acting unethically. I didn't suggest that.

15 What I said was that some of that language 16 was inflammatory and we have to think of the 17 consequences it has on people who come in here and 18 testify, particularly a police officer who may 19 well be harmed in the, in his future when comments 20 and allegations of that sort are made. That was 21 my purpose in saying that.

22 I do not reach any premature conclusions. At 23 the end of the day, Mr. Roberts or other counsel
24 might well convince me that, that what LePard said 25 was not true. That may well be. But what I saw

1 at that stage was major inconsistencies and the 2 honestly held opinions of two different -- two 3 people. That's really what I saw. And so I stand
4 by that. But there's no suggestion for a minute
5 that, that what Mr. Roberts did was unethical or 6 improper.

7 MR. NATHANSON: Well, I appreciate your comments,
8 Mr. Commissioner. I will simply say this. I
9 appreciate that you have a very serious
10 responsibility and counsel in this inquiry has a 11 serious responsibility --

12 THE COMMISSIONER: Yes.

13 MR. NATHANSON: -- to pursue what counsel thinks is in the best 14 interests --

15 THE COMMISSIONER: Yes.

16 MR. NATHANSON: -- of the interests being represented.

17 THE COMMISSIONER: Yes. And I will go further and say that 18 this commission of inquiry is grateful for the 19 presence of, of Mr. Roberts. He's pro bono and 20 he's discharging the duties in the finest 21 tradition of the bar, and that's very much 22 appreciated. And, you know, for this inquiry to 23 have counsel of his ability and his stature is, 24 is, is something that, that we're fortunate to 25 have. Both he and Mr. Baynham have come here and

1                   given their time to the inquiry, and I have to 2                   tell you that I'm grateful for that.

3   MR. NATHANSON: Thank you, Mr. Commissioner, and I thank you 4                   for your time.

5   THE COMMISSIONER: Thank you.

6   MR. VERTLIEB: Thank you, Mr. Commissioner. I would like to 7                   deal with the witness list that has been the 8                   subject of considerable effort by your staff and 9                   the lawyers who have been so diligently appearing 10                  before you over the last number of weeks.

11                  And I know Mr. Giles has been so patient 12                  with, with us in terms of marking exhibits.
13                  Before we break today, Mr. Giles, I am happy just 14                  to confirm on the record that the marking of the 15                  LePard binders, both those documents that will be 16                  noted as non-redacted and therefore not to be put 17                  on the Web, and those that are available to go on 18                  the Web, and similarly for the Williams report.
19                  So, anytime it's convenient for you, feel free to 20                  interrupt me.

21   THE COMMISSIONER: All right.

22   THE REGISTRAR: We will fit it into your schedule.

23   MR. VERTLIEB: Thank you, Mr. Giles.

24                  So, what I have done, Mr. Commissioner, and 25                  everyone has seen this, is just passed you a list

1           that's under construction, and it's a witness list 2           as at December 13, and what it outlines for you is 3           essentially the witnesses that we, as your 4           counsel, believe are necessary, and it's about 50;
5           and then there are a number of other witnesses
6           that show on the third page as proposed witnesses, 7           and many of them are proposed by Mr. Ward.

8   THE COMMISSIONER:   Hm-hmm.

9   MR. VERTLIEB:   There were others proposed, and I want to just 10           tell you where we're at.   So, the way we've come 11           to have this list is that, since the break --

12   THE COMMISSIONER:   What's your position with respect to the 13           witnesses that Mr. Ward has given you and what he 14           says are necessary?   What, what --

15   MR. VERTLIEB:   We don't have enough information to judge why 16           they have relevant evidence and that's the 17           problem.   So, today, we don't see them as 18           necessary.

19   THE COMMISSIONER:   Oh, I see.

20   MR. VERTLIEB:   And what I am hoping we could do today is have 21           Mr. Ward tell you for each of his witnesses how 22           they would help you in your job, keeping in mind 23           that, unlike in a trial, where you sit as an 24           independent arbiter and listen to the various 25           sides, in a public inquiry, you have a different

1 function, and that is, it's your job to determine 2 what you need to find the facts that you need, and 3 also to ultimately make any recommendations that 4 flow from the facts as you have heard them.

5 And so it's really important to involve you 6 in the process, to make sure that we, as your 7 counsel, are providing you the facts you need, but 8 also, that the other lawyers are doing that, and I 9 just don't see it, based on what Mr. Ward has 10 provided.

11 THE COMMISSIONER: Okay.

12 MR. VERTLIEB: He's given us an outline and I'll pass that to 13 you. I had --

14 THE COMMISSIONER: I have, I have what's called a "schedule of 15 suggested witnesses." Is that the one?

16 MR. VERTLIEB: Yes, thank you.

17 THE COMMISSIONER: That's been handed up to me.

18 MR. VERTLIEB: Thank you.

19 THE COMMISSIONER: It starts out with Bill Hiscox on it?

20 MR. VERTLIEB: Yes, thank you.

21 THE COMMISSIONER: Yes.

22 MR. VERTLIEB: So, Mr. Ward, I appreciate the time he's taken 23 to do that, and he's given some information about 24 each witness, but it's not enough to help us 25 understand why they're relevant, given what you

1 have heard to date and we know you will hear from 2 all of the other individuals.

3 So, that's the one function I hope that we 4 can accomplish today, because it is important. It 5 will then help us go back and consider what the 6 ultimate witness list should look like that we 7 would be proposing to you.

8 I should tell you that, in the process, I 9 have spoken with Ms. Gervais, and we've had 10 information from Mr. Gratl. Ms. Gervais and Mr.
11 Gratl have had comments to us about witnesses and 12 we've incorporated, where we feel that's helpful, 13 into our list and it appears before you. For 14 example, Morris Bates is someone who had been 15 proposed by Ms. Gervais and Mr. Gratl. He's on 16 our list now.

17 I also wanted to tell you that I have spoken 18 with the Department of Justice and they had some 19 witnesses who they felt were essential and they 20 explained the purpose to us in the way we 21 requested and we've added witnesses to the list.
22 You will also see in our list that from DoJ's 23 discussions, we propose to have three witnesses 24 provide affidavits that can be used, so the 25 witnesses don't need to attend.

1           And as well, I have also spoken with Criminal
2 Justice Branch. They looked at our proposed list 3 and they felt there should be an additional 4 witness put forward, and that's been incorporated.

5           So, that work has been done. We've listened 6 to the other counsel, and where we've realized 7 there were obvious needs to include names, that's 8 been done and that's how the list gets to the 9 state it's at before you, which then does, as I
10 say, bring us to ask Mr. Ward to provide more 11 information.

12 THE COMMISSIONER: Okay.

13 MR. VERTLIEB: Now, I do want to say that, in the course of 14 doing this and speaking with my clients, I think 15 it's clear that everyone here understands that in 16 a public inquiry, there is a need to be moving 17 efficiently and in a focused way, because the job 18 that you have is determined by the terms of 19 reference. Everyone understands that.

20           I think, secondly, everyone understands that 21 public inquiries are expected to move in a way 22 that is not only efficient, but also expeditious, 23 because a public inquiry, unlike a court case, is, 24 is brought into play by governments because they 25 want answers to problems that they believe need

1           answers, and the sooner those answers are 2           forthcoming, the better for the public.

3           But I also believe that everyone has a 4           genuine desire to help this process come to a 5           conclusion within a reasonable period of time.
6           Not only are we governed by terms of reference 7           with, with end dates, but these cases take an 8           enormous toll on everyone. And I think that my 9           colleagues do have that shared desire to, to bring 10          this to an end. So, when we were planning the 11          witness list some time ago, it seemed to us that 12          an April end date was a reasonable date to 13          accomplish the mandate that you have been given.
14          That should be fine. And I must say that the 15          cross-examinations to date have been lengthier 16          than I anticipated, and I don't say it in 17          criticism, but I say it as a fact to me. And so I 18          also believe that my colleagues here have an 19          understanding and perhaps even a request, in a 20          subtle way, that you start to be more involved in 21          keeping the issues to the terms of reference.

22        THE COMMISSIONER: All right.

23        MR. VERTLIEB: And I have spoken to a number of people who, and 24           it's clear to me, there wouldn't be resistance if 25           you were to say that that's outside the terms of

1 reference, or you've already heard that many 2 times, you don't need to hear it again. I think 3 people welcome the fact that you are a very 4 experienced jurist and you have run trials for 5 many years and so there is a comfort zone with you 6 being more involved in the process than you would 7 in a normal court case. But, obviously, that 8 would be for you to determine as the matters 9 unfold.

10 Now, everyone knows that, starting in 11 January, we are going to extend our sitting time 12 to 9:30, and it could be very soon apparent to 13 all, most importantly to you, that you may need to 14 shorten the lunch break, which is a traditional 15 hour and-a-half, to allow people to work and do 16 other things, but you may need to shorten that, 17 and you may need to even go to longer hours on the 18 Monday through Thursday. We have had colleagues
19 say to us they want to have the Friday available 20 because they have other commitments to other 21 clients, and so we've studiously avoided sitting 22 on Friday. You may need to revisit that to get 23 through this.

24 THE COMMISSIONER: All right.

25 MR. VERTLIEB: That, I just mention that to you as the kinds of 1 options available.

2 But if we could then get some clarity on 3 these requests that Mr. Ward has put forward, --

4 THE COMMISSIONER: All right.

5 MR. VERTLIEB: -- that will help us manage with the list.

6 THE COMMISSIONER: All right. Mr. Ward?

7 MR. WARD: Yes.

8 THE COMMISSIONER: First of all, I'm grateful for the outline
9 that you have, you have provided here, Mr. Ward, 10 with the little precis of each of the witnesses, 11 and I have had the opportunity of looking at it as 12 to what each witness, what they are expected to 13 say.

14 But when I look at it, I would need to know, 15 from my perspective and from the perspective of 16 assisting me in addressing the terms of reference, 17 how some of these witnesses that you want called 18 will further those objectives, and by that I mean, 19 that some of the witnesses that are on this list 20 are witnesses, according to their will say, will 21 tell us what we already know. But in any event, 22 maybe I am jumping in too quickly and I'll, I'll 23 hear you on that.

24 MR. WARD: Thank you. I am here making this submission in 25 support of having these witnesses added to the

1 list because, in effect, I have been directed to 2 do so. My attempts to have these witnesses added 3 to the list during conversations and 4 correspondence have, unlike those of my friends, 5 Ms. Gervais and Mr. Gratl and Ms. Tobias, not 6 succeeded. And so I am obliged now to take up 7 this commission's valuable time endeavoring to 8 persuade you and your staff why these witnesses 9 have material evidence to offer that will assist 10 you in fulfilling your important functions.

11 THE COMMISSIONER: All right.

12 MR. WARD: Now, let me just say before I begin, that I have 13 notified my friends of this fact, but I now 14 represent five additional families, in addition to 15 the 20 I have set out before. I have been 16 retained by the families of Debra Jones, Robert 17 William Pickton was charged, but not convicted in 18 her death; Janet Henry; Maria Laura Laliberte; 19 Sereena Abotsway, Pickton was convicted of 20 murdering her; and Diana Melnick. Pickton was 21 charged with her murder, but not convicted because 22 the charges were stayed. So, those are the five 23 women whose families I am representing as well, 24 bringing the total to 25 families that I currently 25 represent before this commission.

1           I share the objectives of my friend, Mr.
2           Vertlieb, as he's enumerated them. I agree, as 3           strongly as I possibly can, with his remark that 4           this is a taxing and difficult legal proceeding.
5           I come to it with some prior experience in 6           inquiries. It included my participation in the 7           APEC Inquiry before Mr. Hughes, a former justice,
8           and in the Frank Paul Inquiry before Mr. Davies, a 9           former justice. And those inquiries were 10          difficult, they were time-consuming, but they were 11          managed and handled extremely well and resulted in 12          extremely useful, in my opinion, in my submission, 13          recommendations that were ultimately given 14          significant weight by those to whom they were 15          directed.

16          The APEC Inquiry lasted, my recollection, 17          about two years, and the Frank Paul inquiry a long 18          time. But I can say that this experience is very, 19          very different and much more difficult, even at 20          this early stage, than either of those two were.
21          It is a complex matter. It is a matter involving 22          the deaths of, not one disadvantaged aboriginal 23          person, as in the Frank Paul Inquiry, but as many 24          as 49, and I represent the families of 25 of those 25          victims.

1           We're inquiring into a matter that took up 2 over five years, according to the terms of 3 reference, and it involved two police forces and 4 dozens and dozens of investigative officers, 5 unlike APEC, which events lasted a day or two; and 6 Frank Paul, in which the events occurred over an 7 evening.

8           This is, as you have said, Mr. Commissioner, 9 an extremely important matter, and you alluded to 10 the fact that people had stopped you on the street
11 and told you as much. I share that view. And I 12 must say that for my clients, who have waited some 13 14 years for this process, this is extremely, 14 extremely important, and they have trusted that 15 this process, this public inquiry, will unfold as 16 it is supposed to and as, and as it is meant to.

17           And just to remind us all of the purpose of 18 this exercise, I'm passing up a very -- a brief 19 excerpt from what I perceive to be one of the 20 leading textbooks, certainly one of the most 21 recent on this subject. I expect many of my 22 friends have read it cover to cover, or if not, 23 have, have looked at the relevant passages.

24           But I just wish to spend a moment now on the 25 issue of the purpose of a commission of inquiry, a

1 public inquiry like this one, and I have excerpted 2 from Professor Ratushny's textbook entitled "The 3 Conduct of Public Inquiries, law, policy, and 4 practice," a few pages starting at page 16. And I 5 would like to start with the statement made by 6 Justice Cory, of the Supreme Court of Canada in 7 the Westray case, a mine tragedy case, on page 16.
8 He stated this:

9 One of the primary functions of public
10 inquiries is fact-finding. They are 11 often convened, in the wake of public shock, 12 horror, disillusionment, or skepticism, in 13 order to uncover "the truth" .... In times of 14 public questioning, stress and concern, they 15 provide the means for Canadians to be 16 apprised of the conditions pertaining to a 17 worrisome community problem and to be a part 18 of the recommendations that are aimed at 19 resolving the problem.

20 Let me just pause there, if I may, to say
21 that my clients, and indeed, I suspect the general 22 public, suffered from shock, horror and 23 disillusionment when they learned, not only that 24 Robert William Pickton was involved in as many as 25 49 serial murders, but that he had been identified

1 as a suspect as early as 1998 and the police had 2 done nothing about it. And that essentially is 3 why we are here, to answer the question of why the 4 police in Vancouver, in Port Coquitlam, who are 5 charged with law enforcement responsibilities and 6 maintaining public safety, apparently did nothing 7 about the serial killer who was involved in taking 8 women from Vancouver and murdering them in 9 Coquitlam, in Port Coquitlam.

10 Let me move on. Professor Ratushny says this 11 at page 17 where he starts enumerating the 12 features of a commission of inquiry like this one.
13 In the second full paragraph, I quote:

14 Perhaps the most important feature of a 15 commission of inquiry that inspires public 16 confidence is its independence. The 17 commissioner has no vested interest in the 18 outcome and is expected to proceed 19 objectively and "let the chips fall where 20 they may." This is in contrast to an 21 "internal investigation," which may be 22 perceived by the public as having a motive of 23 "protecting" the institution that is under 24 suspicion by favouring personal associates.
25 Let me just pause there. We have heard

1 already of what I would characterize as three 2 internal investigations that have been done into 3 this matter: the first by Deputy Chief LePard of 4 the Vancouver Police Department; the second by 5 Inspector Williams of the RCMP; and the third by 6 Deputy Chief Evans of Peel. They are all police 7 officers' reviews of police officers' conduct. If 8 that was all that was required to find out what 9 had happened in this tragedy and how another one 10 might be avoided in the future, government would 11 not, presumably, have set up this body. It would 12 not have ordered a public inquiry into these 13 matters. It would have simply accepted the 14 internal reviews.

15 Let me return to the text for a moment
16 please. I carry on.

17 Often [says Professor Ratushny] judges or 18 retired judges are appointed to enhance the 19 perceived status of independence, because of 20 the guarantees of independence associated 21 with judicial office.

22 A second feature is public confidence in 23 the effectiveness of the commissioner to "get 24 to the bottom" of the problem. In this 25 respect, it occasionally becomes apparent

1           that not every good judge is well suited to 2           the role of commissioner. The ability to be 3           effective arises not only from the 4           commissioner's personal and professional 5           qualifications but also from the nature of 6           the assignment. A commissioner is able to 7           set aside all other professional obligations 8           and devote all available time and energy to 9           the inquiry. Resources and staff are 10          provided [and so on].

11           And I appreciate, and my clients appreciate, 12          Mr. Commissioner, that you, I am sure, have done 13          just that, that you have made yourself available 14          to take on this important role, and we know that 15          sufficient resources and staff have been provided 16          to assist you.

17           The next paragraph of Professor Ratushny's 18          text reads as follows:

19                   The public will also derive confidence 20                   from the mandate of the commission, which 21                   will be designed to address the very 22                   questions and issues that give rise to public 23                   concern.

24           Let me stop there for a moment to just say 25          that the mandate here, in, in the two

1 critical fact-finding terms of reference, require 2 you, of course, to conduct an investigation into,
3 firstly, why -- and I am doing these in 4 chronological order -- firstly, why the Crown made
5 the decision not to proceed with the charges
6 against Mr. Pickton arising from the 1997
7 attempted murder; and secondly, the conduct of the 8 missing women investigations as they are defined 9 in the terms of reference over a period that 10 lasted a little over five years.

11 Returning to the text, and I quote:

12 The public scrutiny of commissions through 13 the media essentially precludes governments
14 from attempting to direct a particular 15 outcome by restricting the terms of 16 reference. Indeed, they often give 17 commissioners authority to pursue any 18 additional avenues they that may consider 19 relevant to their prescribed mandates.

20 A commissioner also has broad 21 investigative powers to compel the testimony 22 of witnesses and the production of documents.
23 The commissioner is not a passive observer, 24 as in a trial, but may "go where the evidence 25 leads." And there are no restrictions

1 arising from any pleadings.

2 Finally, or next on page 18, the first full 3 paragraph, Professor Ratushny writes:

4 Another feature that enhances public 5 confidence is the transparency of the 6 proceedings. Most inquiries receive detailed 7 coverage in the media, some are televised, 8 and most now have websites with access to the 9 hearings. The process of conducting open and 10 public hearings is an important component in 11 the process of restoring public confidence.

12 And indeed, this inquiry shares those 13 features. There is live streaming and the 14 commission does have its website and the 15 transcripts and exhibits are made available there.

16 Finally, over on page 19, at the foot of that 17 page, the last paragraph, quoting from Professor 18 Ratushny:

19 The public expects that a commission
20 will fulfill its role in accordance with the 21 features described above: independently,
22 effectively, according to its mandate,
23 relying on its extraordinary investigative 24 powers, and transparently.

25 And those features, and I'm paraphrasing now,

1 are what set commissions apart from the remainder 2 of the executive: the government, cabinet, other 3 bodies.

4 So, bearing in mind the purpose of 5 commissions of public inquiry like this one, and 6 this commission's mandate, we have, indeed, been 7 endeavoring to assist this commission, on behalf 8 of our clients, with the important investigative 9 role and function it has, and we've done that in 10 two respects thus far. We have made numerous 11 representations about document disclosure and 12 numerous requests for document disclosure.

13 You may recall, Mr. Commissioner, that we 14 were to have brought on an application for 15 document disclosure this week. We have decided 16 not to spend this commission's time doing that 17 because, due to the hard work of your staff, many, 18 but not all, of our document requests have been 19 respected and satisfied and documents have been 20 arriving in the database, which is called 21 concordance, and what I would characterize as a, a 22 steady trickle. There are still many more 23 documents to come that we feel are relevant. And 24 on the commission's assurance that they are, that 25 efforts are being made to get those, we are

1 declining to make a formal application now, but we 2 reserve a right to bring one on later if it
3 becomes necessary, and we hope that it won't.

4 The second way we've been endeavoring to 5 assist this commission with its important duties 6 is to propose witnesses who we feel, based on the 7 information in the database at present, will have 8 relevant evidence to offer, and this is an early 9 stage. We don't pretend to know where the 10 evidence is going to lead. It may be that some of 11 the witnesses I am about to propose now will not 12 be necessary because of how the evidence unfolds.
13 It may be that other witnesses that we haven't 14 thought of, that your staff hasn't thought of, 15 will apparently or obviously become necessary 16 based on what the testimony might be. We just 17 don't know. But we have made our best effort at 18 this early stage, based on what is in the 19 concordance database, and based on the material 20 available to us now, to offer our suggestions, our 21 strong suggestions on who we feel this commission 22 must also hear from.

23 And I am about to go through that list, but 24 before I do, I want to preface my submissions by 25 saying that we have, in the last few weeks, heard

1           lengthy testimony from the Vancouver Police
2           Department's spokesman and reviewer, Deputy Chief 3           LePard, who wasn't actually involved in the 4           investigations. We've heard through him an 5           overview of what the VPD's role was with respect
6           to the investigation of the reports of the missing 7           women.

8                        What we haven't yet dealt with, in any sense, 9           is what happened at the other end, geographically,
10          which is what, what was going on in Port Coquitlam
11          and what was following within the RCMP's mandate.

12                      And I have to stress that my clients, the 13          families of 25 women who went missing and were 14          murdered, they have two key factual issues within 15          the terms of reference that they're concerned 16          about with respect to non-VPD issues, and they 17          are, firstly, why didn't the Crown prosecute 18          Robert William Pickton for his attempted murder of 19          Anderson in 1997? The families feel that, had the 20          Crown prosecuted Pickton vigorously and, and 21          secured a conviction, their loved ones would 22          likely be alive today. That's an important 23          critical issue. The second --

24    THE COMMISSIONER: Well, there is no doubt that's, that's a 25          critical issue and that's why it has a separate

1 term of reference. But the witness that,
2 witnesses that have been proposed by commission
3 counsel, I was looking at it here a moment ago,
4 first of all, they -- Randi Connor was the Crown
5 counsel who entered a stay of proceedings.
6 Apparently she had conduct of the file. And then 7 the other proposed witnesses, according to the 8 list that I have, are Geoff Gaul or Richard 9 Romano. They were apparently supervising counsel, 10 is that what they were?

11 MR. VERTLIEB: Yes. Just since you have raised it, 12 Mr. Commissioner, it would be Mr. Romano and not 13 Mr. Gaul, we weren't sure when this was prepared, 14 but I have clarified; and Ms. Anderson, of course, 15 the complainant; Mr. Celle, who we have asked to 16 give an independent opinion. And we also would 17 need Melissa Gillespie, who is a senior Crown, and 18 she can give evidence about the policies and 19 approaches to stay of proceedings back in the 20 timeframe --

21 THE COMMISSIONER: Okay.

22 MR. VERTLIEB: -- that relates. So, we've covered that.

23 THE COMMISSIONER: So, on that issue, Mr. Ward, who else do you 24 suggest that the inquiry needs to hear from in 25 order to, to investigate that particular term of

1 reference?

2 MR. WARD: The lawyer, Peter Ritchie, and I will set out the 3 reasons.

4 THE COMMISSIONER: Did Ritchie act for him at the -- Pickton at 5 the time?

6 MR. WARD: Yes. Here's, here's what happened. And just before 7 I get into what the documents reveal, --

8 THE COMMISSIONER: Yes.

9 MR. WARD: -- I have to say, as I said in the opening, that I'm 10 aware, obviously, of the counsel's undertaking I 11 have signed. It's very broad in scope.

12 THE COMMISSIONER: Yes.

13 MR. WARD: It, on the face of it, if you interpret it strictly, 14 prevents me from even speaking now about what I 15 have read in the documents --

16 THE COMMISSIONER: Yes.

17 MR. WARD: -- before they're marked as exhibits. But I am 18 going to assume that the undertaking wasn't 19 intended to do that, and I am going to proceed 20 through the course of these submissions in 21 speaking about the contents of those documents.
22 Everybody has seen them. All the lawyers have 23 seen them. I am not going to mention names that I
24 shouldn't, but I have to speak about the contents
25 of the documents that are in the courts.

1 THE COMMISSIONER: Let me just interrupt you there for a 2 minute. What does it matter what deal that Mr.
3 Ritchie reached on behalf of Pickton when a stay 4 of proceedings was entered, if we know a stay of 5 proceedings was entered? And if we look at the 6 evidence that no doubt will be called, and from 7 that evidence, Crown will tell us why they entered 8 a stay of proceedings, and you can argue, can you 9 not, that that stay of proceedings was improperly 10 and wrongfully entered? Does that not -- can you 11 not reach that conclusion or make that argument 12 based on the witnesses that are there? Why do we 13 need to hear from Peter Ritchie?

14 MR. WARD: Well, I am just -- I am not -- I am just calling up
15 the terms of reference.

16 THE COMMISSIONER: No, I just, an example, I -- look, look, 17 you're senior counsel and I don't want to, I am 18 not questioning your judgement for a minute, and 19 far be it for me to, to suggest any of that. But 20 I just want to know, from the perspective of 21 calling, say, Ritchie as a witness on that term of 22 reference --

23 MR. WARD: I will give, I'll give it to you.

24 THE COMMISSIONER: Okay.

25 MR. WARD: We are told --

1 THE COMMISSIONER: Yes.

2 MR. WARD: -- that the Crown destroyed the file.

3 THE COMMISSIONER: Yes.

4 MR. WARD: I want -- I have asked to pursue that and probe 5 that, because that is surprising in light of 6 Pickton's 2002 arrest, --

7 THE COMMISSIONER: Yes.

8 MR. WARD: -- that a 1998 attempt murder file of him would have 9 been destroyed within the four-year period. My 10 understanding is that lawyers are obliged to keep 11 files for six years, at a minimum. Anyway, the 12 Crown file was destroyed.

13 THE COMMISSIONER: Yes.

14 MR. WARD: So, we are relying on Crown witness recollections as 15 to this aspect. And your terms of reference on 16 this point are, Mr. Commissioner, to inquire into 17 and make findings of fact respecting the decision
18 of the Criminal Justice Branch --

19 THE COMMISSIONER: Yes.

20 MR. WARD: -- on January 27th, '98, to enter a stay of 21 proceedings on all those charges against Robert 22 William Pickton: attempted murder, assault with a 23 weapon, forceable confinement and so forth. To 24 inquire into that matter, that decision, involves 25 ascertaining who the witnesses are whose conduct

1                    contributed to the decision.

2       THE COMMISSIONER:    Yes.

3       MR. WARD:    Now, what happened here, based on the documents, was 4                    that when Robert William Pickton was charged with 5                    attempted murder, he went to the lawyers that had 6                    been representing him and his brother and sister 7                    and the Piggy Palace Society with respect to 8                    Coquitlam's attempt to shut that operation down, 9                    my friend, Mr. Crossin's, law firm. Mr. Crossin's 10                   law firm represented Mr. Willie Pickton for two 11                   weeks and then Peter Ritchie took over.

12                   Peter Ritchie, a senior, respected counsel, 13                   and a friend of mine in every sense of the word, 14                   on the documents, went from his Vancouver office 15                   and accompanied Willie Pickton to his 16                   fingerprinting session. That's rather 17                   extraordinary. And then, presumably over the 18                   next, I am doing my arithmetic here, nine, 10 19                   months, while these charges were pending against 20                   his client, he had discussions with, 21                   communications with, made representations to the 22                   Crown.

23       THE COMMISSIONER:    Yes.

24       MR. WARD:    Now, in order to inquire into why the decision was 25                   made, in my respectful submission, you have to

1           hear both sides of the story, Crown and defence, 2           as to how the deal to drop the charges was 3           reached. Anything that passed between Mr. Ritchie 4           and the Crown is not subject to any privilege that 5           I'm aware of.

6                     You're going to hear Crown recollections, 7           presumably, and opinions, and justifications for 8           dropping the charges, in respect of a decision 9           that was made 14 years ago without the benefit of 10          the file, which they sent off at some point to be 11          destroyed.

12   THE COMMISSIONER: Okay. So, how can Mr. Ritchie assist us?

13   MR. WARD: By providing his recollection of those 14           communications and of the deal. The deal is the 15           critical thing. Questions include: did Mr.
16           Ritchie persuade, cajole? How did he persuade?
17           What efforts did he make to get the Crown to drop 18           the charges against his client?

19   THE COMMISSIONER: Okay. But the question I have is, is any of 20           that relevant? Because what we have to inquire 21           into is the correctness of the decision. So, why 22           do we have to know what conversations took place 23           in the deal between Ritchie, the Crown, that 24           resulted in a stay of proceedings?

25   MR. WARD: With respect, what we have to inquire into, and I

1 say "we", all of us, is the decision, not its 2 correctness, but to inquire into and make findings
3 of fact respecting the decision.

4 THE COMMISSIONER: Yes.

5 MR. WARD: Here is, here is why this is so important, 6 Mr. Commissioner. From the public's point of 7 view, from the lay point of view, my clients' 8 point of view, the justice system failed in the 9 case of the attempted murder charges. It failed.
10 It didn't operate. It, it dropped the ball. Why 11 did it do it? What influenced the Crown not to do 12 what society expects the Crown to do, which is to 13 prosecute offenders in the case of Willie Pickton?
14 Why didn't it?

15 THE COMMISSIONER: But I, I don't know if we, we can -- I know 16 you are enthusiastic about it --

17 MR. WARD: I am.

18 THE COMMISSIONER: -- and that's good. But what I am saying to 19 you is that we don't know if the system failed.
20 There may well have been reasons as to why the 21 Crown entered a stay of proceedings. I don't 22 know. That's what I, I have been entrusted to 23 find out, why did they -- did they make a mistake?
24 Did they err in entering a stay of proceedings 25 against Pickton? That's really what I'm mandated

1 to find out in this, in this particular inquiry.

2 So, my, my concern is, do I have to know all 3 of the details of the discussions when I will have 4 before me all the relevant evidence that led to 5 the charge, charges, and a decision made to stay 6 the charges? You can say, Mr. Ward, that, "Look 7 it, the evidence against Pickton was strong. The 8 evidence against Pickton was compelling and the 9 Crown made a mistake, based on that evidence, in 10 not proceeding." Why do we have to know from 11 what, from Peter Ritchie or any other lawyer that 12 acted on behalf of Pickton, as to what 13 negotiations took place? That's the only concern
14 that I have. I, I know what your task is. I know 15 what my task is. But I just want to know why we 16 need the extra witnesses.

17 MR. WARD: Well, I submit that you need the defence. Every 18 prosecution involves prosecution actors, defence 19 actors, and if the matter gets to a court, 20 judicial actors.

21 THE COURT: Right.

22 MR. WARD: If you are to conduct an effective and thorough 23 inquiry into this aspect of the terms of 24 reference, my position is you must hear from 25 defence. Simply hearing from Crown, especially in

1                   circumstances when they have destroyed their 2                   files, is not going to be thorough enough. It
3                   will be a matter of bringing Mr. Ritchie here, 4                   having him sit in the witness box with his file, 5                   if he still has his, and explaining the defence's 6                   role in this issue. Simple as that. It's not a 7                   lengthy matter. It's not a difficult matter.
8                   There is no privilege that attaches to his 9                   dealings with the Crown, and you have to hear from 10                   him to discharge your role.

11       THE COMMISSIONER: Is it not reasonable to assume that whatever 12                   Ritchie will have to say will be in accordance 13                   with what the Crown has to say?

14       MR. WARD: No.

15       THE COMMISSIONER: Why not?

16       MR. WARD: Because, because the Crown --

17       THE COMMISSIONER: The Crown obviously agreed to what Ritchie 18                   wanted.

19       MR. WARD: But --

20       THE COMMISSIONER: Or maybe we are surmising something that we 21                   are not entitled to.

22       MR. WARD: -- the question is, why were these incredibly 23                   serious charges against this man dropped --

24       THE COMMISSIONER: Yes.

25       MR. WARD: -- like a hot potato? Why?

1 THE COMMISSIONER: Okay.

2 MR. WARD: You're going to hear from the Crown, sure, and the 3 Crown, I am sure, will have all sorts of 4 justifications, without the benefit of their file.
5 But to get the whole picture, and this inquiry is 6 all about getting the whole picture, --

7 THE COMMISSIONER: Yes.

8 MR. WARD: -- you have to hear from defence.

9 THE COMMISSIONER: All right.

10 MR. WARD: Now, I hadn't planned to tackle that witness at the 11 outset, but we've dealt with him.

12 I was addressing you after I had mentioned 13 the first key fact that my clients were seeking to 14 investigate in this process pertaining to what 15 happened in Port Coquitlam.

16 The second is, and I will put it this way,
17 what did that community's police force, the RCMP, 18 know about the illegal activities that were going 19 on at the Picktons' properties? When did they 20 acquire the knowledge of those illegal activities 21 and what did they do with that knowledge? These 22 victims, up to 49 of them, were killed just down
23 the road from the Coquitlam RCMP detachment, 24 literally, just down Lougheed Highway, on one or 25 more properties that, according to the documents,

1           were beehives of unlawful activity, by one or more 2           people who are known to the police for their 3           criminal lifestyles and behaviour. The families 4           want to know, through this process they're 5           entitled to know and they need to know, how in the 6           world could that possibly have --

7   THE COMMISSIONER: I agree with you, they're entitled to know 8                   that and we know that. That's why we're here.

9   MR. WARD: Exactly.

10 THE COMMISSIONER: Yes.

11 MR. WARD: Before I get to the specified witnesses on my list, 12           there are, Mr. Commissioner, two classes of 13           unidentifiable witnesses that I want to mention 14           only briefly right now so that everybody is alive
15           to this. The first class, bearing in mind what I
16           just submitted, are those Coquitlam RCMP officers 17           whose identities are not apparent, who may have 18           had dealings prior to 2002 with the criminal 19           activities that were occurring in and around the 20           Picktons' properties.

21           The second class, and that will help you,
22           Mr. Commissioner, in answering that key question 23           at the centre of this inquiry, why were the 24           Picktons, both of them, but William in particular, 25           left alone for so many years by the RCMP when

1 criminal activities were plainly being carried out 2 on their properties?

3 And the second class of unidentifiable
4 witnesses emerges from the testimony of Deputy 5 Chief LePard, and it consists of, and I forget the 6 number, but I think it was 13 or thereabouts, sex
7 trade workers who went to the Pickton properties, 8 partied there and survived to tell the police 9 about it later. In my submission, we need to, we 10 ought to hear from those people and we need to get 11 their identities at some point so they can be 12 called.

13 But having said that, let me turn next to the 14 witness list, and I'm, I'm going to go a little 15 bit out of order, but I want to start with a 16 person who has come to us, who very much wishes to 17 testify, whose identity I cannot divulge at this 18 point, but who I've given the pseudonym of Jane 19 Smith to in our list. And this is a, a woman who 20 I expect will say essentially the following: that 21 in the late 1990s, she got into drugs, that led to 22 theft, and then in 2000, street-level sex trade
23 work. She worked as a sex worker for about nine 24 months in 2000 in Vancouver. She had encounters 25 with Vancouver Police Department members that were

1 unpleasant and she can describe those. She knew a 2 number of colleagues in the sex trade in Vancouver 3 at that time and acquired what she will 4 characterize as common knowledge that the women
5 who were going missing were being killed by a pig
6 farmer in the Coquitlam area, and she was warned 7 about that.

8 But the key element of her evidence is this, 9 Mr. Commissioner. On a date that she can cite 10 with some specificity, in late 2000, she was 11 working on the street and she was picked up by 12 Willie Pickton. She will say that he invited her 13 to come out to a biker party on his pig farm. She 14 will say she refused the invitation. She asked 15 him if he was responsible for the missing women
16 and he told her that he was. He also admitted 17 that he had killed women there.

18 She was in the vehicle at this time. She 19 demanded to be let out and she employed a ruse to 20 escape, and her ruse was that she too had 21 connections with bikers, and that if he took her 22 out there, he would start a gang war. He let her 23 out of the vehicle.

24 She went straight home. She reported the 25 incident to her friend and immediately phoned the

1 police. She believes she called 911. There would 2 be a record of that. She was put through to a 3 male officer. She described what had just 4 happened, described the person in the vehicle, and 5 will say that she was brushed off by the police.
6 She will say, I expect, that the officer told her 7 they were too busy to investigate her concern, 8 that they were well aware of this man, and that 9 they didn't want to pursue him for a mere threat 10 when they could charge him with murder.

11 I have given her the name of Jane Smith. The 12 relevance of her testimony to this inquiry ought 13 to be apparent from that brief description of what 14 she, I expect she will say. I have met with her 15 and I can tell you that today, she is employed in 16 the Province of British Columbia. She has not 17 taken drugs of any kind since December 12th, 2000.
18 She's happy and, well, not happy, but she's 19 healthy --

20 THE COMMISSIONER: Have you, have you given the name of this 21 person to commission counsel?

22 MR. WARD: No, I have not.

23 THE COURT: Well, that might be the first step.

24 MR. WARD: Well, I have to be -- this, this woman is vulnerable
25 and she does not want her name divulged

1           prematurely. I have to know that she will be a 2           witness before I can make sure the protocol is in 3           place to, to make sure that there's no retaliation 4           by any -- to her or difficulties inflicted upon 5           her as a result of her coming forward. So, we can 6           talk about that. But I have her, I have her name, 7           her contact information, all of that.

8                         And just on this last point, the fact that 9           she is stable, healthy, off drugs, not employed in 10          the sex trade today, is an example, an example of 11          what any one or all of the murdered women might be 12          today had they escaped their fates.

13       THE COMMISSIONER: Yes.

14       MR. WARD: The next witness I proposed, Mr. Commissioner, is 15                 Bill Hiscox. And again, I am assuming that this 16                 commission exists to conduct a thorough --

17       THE COMMISSIONER: You see, the concern that I have with those 18                 three witnesses that you have got is that the 19                 police have acknowledged that those informants 20                 were, were reliable. So, tell me why it's 21                 necessary to call them. Nobody has questioned
22                 their credibility. Ellingsen's credibility 23                 apparently was questioned at one time but -- after 24                 she made the denial, but according to the deputy 25                 police chief, they didn't believe her denial.

1           So, I think, I think that we may conclude, 2           subject to argument, that, that they were 3           reliable, that at least according to LePard, those 4           witnesses were reliable. So, why do you want to 5           call Hiscox? Just to show he was reliable? I 6           don't understand why it's necessary to call that 7           witness when his evidence was not challenged by 8           anybody.

9   MR. WARD: The test for whether a witness should be called is 10           not whether, whether their evidence is challenged 11           by someone. The test is whether they have 12           relevant evidence to offer that will assist you in 13           discharging your responsibilities in the terms of 14           reference.

15   THE COMMISSIONER: I appreciate that. They have already given 16           that evidence.

17   MR. WARD: Well, they haven't, with respect, given the 18           evidence. They only give evidence when they come 19           forward and sit in the witness box and take the 20           oath.

21   THE COMMISSIONER: Well, I think that it's reasonable to assume 22           that, because of a lengthy cross-examination, 23           that, that the deputy chief has undergone, that 24           that was not merely an overview that he gave, and 25           counsel here treated it as though that was

1           reliable.

2           In any event, the point of that evidence, as 3 I understand it, is that the police were given 4 reliable evidence and they didn't act on it, and 5 he accepted that they erred in not acting on 6 evidence that's reliable. That's the point. And 7 I have to be satisfied, at the end of the day, 8 whether or not they were -- they failed in their 9 duty in not securing a warrant or further acting 10 upon the evidence of those three informants. I 11 have to be satisfied on that. And so far, from 12 what I've heard, there isn't any other evidence.
13 Do I expect Hiscox to come here and say something 14 different?

15 MR. WARD: I do. We're going to hear from, for example, 16 Shenher.

17 THE COMMISSIONER: But that's -- no, let's not go into that.
18 Let's deal with what I am talking about here now.
19 I want to accommodate you here, but I want to know 20 why we're calling certain witnesses. I looked --

21 MR. WARD: Forgive me, but for me, it seems obvious, but let 22 me, let me try to assist. I'll, I'll put the 23 informants together in a group for the moment, but 24 Hiscox is a good example. We all know about 25 Hiscox, based on what LePard has said, what we've

1 heard so far.

2 Hiscox comes forward in July of '98. He 3 deals with Lori Shenher. Shenher and Connor
4 believe he's reliable. They believe what he's 5 saying about Willie Pickton, a pig farmer and his 6 disposal of bodies.

7 THE COMMISSIONER: Yes.

8 MR. WARD: But for reasons yet to be fully revealed, neither 9 police force does anything about it.

11 MR. WARD: Right?

12 THE COMMISSIONER: Okay.

13 MR. WARD: All right. I'm, I'm not missing that. Why, why -- 14 here's a question. Why didn't the investigators 15 take him up on his offer to be an agent? You are 16 going to hear from the investigators their 17 perspective and they're going to be defensive, no
18 doubt. They're going to say, well, who knows?
19 But Hiscox has his own perspective on that. "I 20 offered to be an agent. Here's what I could do."

21 THE COMMISSIONER: Did he offer to be an agent?

22 MR. WARD: He did. That's what, that's what LePard has said.

23 THE COMMISSIONER: Okay. But where does that get us? If, if, 24 if LePard tells us that he was a reliable witness 25 and they didn't act on his offer to become an

1 agent, why, why do we need Hiscox here?

2 MR. WARD: Hiscox --

3 THE COMMISSIONER: It's called relevance, Mr. Ward. How is 4 that evidence relevant?

5 MR. WARD: Mr. Commissioner, --

6 THE COURT: Yes.

7 MR. WARD: -- I expect that Hiscox's evidence will include
8 statements to the effect that he was doing 9 everything he possibly could to get the police to 10 deal with Pickton.

11 THE COMMISSIONER: Yes.

12 MR. WARD: He offered to be an agent.

13 THE COMMISSIONER: Yes.

14 MR. WARD: I expect he will say he and Lori Shenher went out 15 personally to the pig farm.

16 THE COMMISSIONER: Yes.

17 MR. WARD: They entered it. They walked around the property 18 and she told him, Hiscox, not to tell that to 19 anyone.

20 THE COMMISSIONER: Yes.

21 MR. WARD: I expect he will testify in great detail about his 22 dealings with Shenher and his efforts to get the 23 police to pay attention to the problem. Why is 24 that relevant? It's because the police apparently 25 sat on their hands and dozens of women were killed

1 as a result. That's what we're inquiring into.

2 THE COMMISSIONER: But you are missing the point of what I am

3 saying. Mr. Ward, they have already said that.

4 MR. WARD: Well then, we can all go home. Why don't we? I

5 thought --

6 THE COMMISSIONER: Well --

7 MR. WARD: I thought we had to hear all the evidence as it

8 unfolded. I may not be experienced enough to 9 appreciate this, but I thought decisions --

10 THE COMMISSIONER: We have to hear evidence that's relevant.

11 MR. WARD: Indeed.

12 THE COMMISSIONER: Yes.

13 MR. WARD: Indeed. And the informers -- according to LePard's

14 testimony, the evidence of Hiscox and Caldwell and 15 Best was highly, highly relevant.

16 THE COMMISSIONER: Right.

17 MR. WARD: According to him and to his report.

18 THE COMMISSIONER: Right.

19 MR. WARD: If -- listen, if all we are doing here is rehashing

20 LePard's report, Williams' report and Evans'

21 report, just say so and I will go home. But I

22 don't think that's what we're doing here. I think

23 we're, we're conducting an independent, thorough

24 inquiry into the facts by looking at the documents

25 and hearing --

1 THE COMMISSIONER: I think I have --

2 MR. WARD: -- the direct evidence.

3 THE COMMISSIONER: I think I have a pretty good idea of what 4 we're doing, Mr. Ward.

5 MR. WARD: Well, I confess I don't --

6 THE COMMISSIONER: Well --

7 MR. WARD: -- because I, I'm surprised I have to explain why 8 these critical people are relevant witnesses.

9 THE COMMISSIONER: No. Well, you have to explain why we have 10 to hear repetitious arguments, repetitious 11 evidence. That's what you have to --

12 MR. WARD: We haven't heard --

13 THE COMMISSIONER: Just a minute. Evidence that's already been 14 heard. That's what, that's what I --

15 MR. WARD: Mr. Commissioner, with respect, we haven't heard any 16 evidence yet. We have only heard from LePard.
17 It's meaning -- essentially meaningless evidence 18 with respect to double and triple hearsay like 19 this.

20 THE COMMISSIONER: If it's so meaningless, why did you 21 cross-examine him for two and-a-half days?

22 MR. WARD: Again, Mr. Commissioner, I cross-examined for four 23 hours, one day, and the record displays that.
24 Your recollection on this point is faulty, with 25 the greatest of respect.

1 THE COMMISSIONER: Well --

2 MR. WARD: With the greatest of respect, you're wrong, 3 Mr. Commissioner.

4 THE COMMISSIONER: You know, you asked for five days to cross-5 examine him --

6 MR. WARD: Again, you're wrong, Mr. Commissioner, and I am
7 going to interrupt because I did not. I think 8 this is a convenient time to take a break.

9 THE COMMISSIONER: All right. I'm not, I'm not taking a break.
10 I will decide when we take breaks.

11 MR. WARD: All right. Well, I just was offering it because I 12 don't want to say something I will regret later 13 because --

14 THE COMMISSIONER: Well, then you can --

15 MR. WARD: But I want to tell you, I want to tell you right 16 now, Mr. Commissioner, my clients, the families of 17 25 missing and murdered women, have been watching 18 this proceeding, are following it, and they are 19 extremely unhappy with the way it is being 20 conducted. I want to make that clear on the 21 record. I want to pass along to you their view 22 that they, through their advocate, are getting the 23 same treatment, in their perception, today, in 24 this inquiry room, as they got when they took 25 their concerns to the authorities back in the 1           years before 2002. They are not being listened 2           to, they are not being respected and they are not 3           being appreciated, and that is their perception

4           and, and I'm passing that along.

5    THE COMMISSIONER: Well, let me interrupt you there, Mr. Ward.

6           First of all, your clients have been treated with 7           respect. The families came here and we are 8           grateful for what they've told us and we heard 9           about the pain and suffering they have gone 10          through. We've listened carefully to the way they 11          were treated by the authorities. In fact, they 12          were treated with so much respect that nobody 13          cross-examined them. In fact, the lawyers got up 14          and apologized to them.

15                 So, for you to suggest that they haven't been 16          treated fairly is incorrect, and you know that, 17          Mr. Ward. The fact is that we are, we are most 18          grateful for them to come forward, and they have 19          been heard for the first time and I personally am 20          grateful that they have come here and told us 21          very, told us of very difficult personal 22          circumstances, the sufferings and the losses that 23          they have experienced, and we patiently have 24          listened to them, as we should have.

25                 And we respect them. We all respect them and

1 every lawyer in this room has respected them. And 2 for you to stand up here and say that they have 3 been disrespected is wrong, and you know that as 4 an officer of the Court. They have been treated 5 very fairly, as they should have been. And I have 6 never seen, in a courtroom, in all the years that 7 I have been in courtrooms, where lawyers have 8 actually apologized to victims the way they have 9 in this case. And that's the way it should be.
10 They should be treated with respect. But --

11 MR. WARD: With, with, with respect, Mr. Commissioner, you 12 misinterpreted my comments. They have been 13 watching and they have been seeing how their 14 representative, their advocate, me, their counsel, 15 is being treated in this process, and they 16 perceive that that is a clear indication that they 17 continue to be shown a lack of respect. Let me 18 give you one example.

19 THE COMMISSIONER: Well, first of all, that's not --

20 MR. WARD: It's not incorrect. Let me give you one example.

21 My clients were originally scheduled to testify on 22 a Monday. They were all here from their various 23 places of residence.

24 THE COMMISSIONER: Yes.

25 MR. WARD: I expected that your commission counsel would

1           conduct their examinations in chief and we had had 2           discussions about that. Your commission counsel
3           said, "Have them all show up at 2 o'clock on 4           Sunday afternoon and we will get them ready for 5           their evidence." That's what happened and that -- 6           I said, "Well, that's absurd. You can't possibly 7           prepare 10 witnesses at 2 o'clock on a Sunday 8           before they testify on a Monday. If that's your 9           attitude, we will do it," and we did. We 10          conducted the examinations in chief. That's just 11          one example. I can, I can point to many, many, 12          many more that have transpired in the course of 13          these proceedings.

14        THE COMMISSIONER: Okay.

15        MR. WARD: Mr. Vertlieb gave up -- stood up here and made a 40-16          minute speech about my conduct reading e-mails.
17          You have criticized, Mr. Commissioner, two 18          questions that I had asked seven or eight days
19          earlier in this process, and clearly, based on Mr.
20          Nathanson's representations, I had every right to 21          ask those questions in my submission.

22                 But there are many, many examples of why the 23          families feel the way they do. They are appalled, 24          Mr. Commissioner, at the suggestion that we are 25          going to rush to get this over with by the 30th of 1 April. They are appalled by that. If that is the 2 way that this public inquiry is going to unfold, 3 on a stopwatch, then I will have to seek 4 instructions as to whether they wish to be further 5 involved in this at all, because it will be a sham 6 if it --

7 THE COMMISSIONER: Well, first of all, --

8 MR. WARD: -- if it's done on a rushed --

9 THE COMMISSIONER: Mr. Ward, I don't know what happened between 10 you and commission counsel. I will hear in a 11 moment about the interviews that were conducted.
12 I, I have no knowledge of that. But the two 13 questions that I took you to task for was the way
14 you treated those two witnesses who came here.
15 One was Dr. Shannon. The other one was the public 16 health nurse, Ms. Astin, and I took you to task
17 for that because I thought those witnesses 18 deserved to be treated fairly. And I stand by my 19 remarks when you questioned that nurse about the 20 value of her own home, that she lived in a $2 21 million home, and that, that was a question that 22 -- intended to embarrass her, and that was my 23 purpose in criticizing you for that. That's the 24 only area that I have, that I have criticized you 25 on, Mr. Ward.

1           We treat witnesses with respect. All your 2 witnesses who came here were treated with respect
3 and I simply ask that you do the same to the other 4 witnesses who come here, whether you agree with 5 them or not. All witnesses who come here should 6 be treated with respect.

7           I thought that the way you treated Dr.
8 Shannon was unfair, and I've told you that. I
9 was, I was quite candid with you. Dr. Shannon 10 gave evidence about interviewing women that had 11 gone out to the farm. We didn't know that those 12 interviews had taken place during the trial or 13 after the trial. That's something that you should 14 have clarified. In any event, I have made my 15 comments. I stand by them. We need to move on.

16 MR. WARD: I agree, Mr. Commissioner, and I suggested a break
17 because my view is that this is becoming unseemly.
18 All I want to say is that my clients believe that 19 they're entitled to a proper public inquiry in 20 accordance with the purpose of such a, a 21 proceeding, as I set out from Professor Ratushny's 22 text. They feel they're not getting it.

23           They feel that the paring of the witness list 24 down, the suggestion that counsel have to be 25 limited in cross-examinations, and the resistance

1           that their counsel is getting with respect to 2           proposing witnesses who, on the face of it, appear 3           to be obviously relevant, is discouraging them.

4           Now --

5   THE COMMISSIONER: Well, first of all, Mr. Ward, I, I don't 6           know whether these witnesses are relevant or not.
7           I am simply asking you how they're relevant, and I
8           am just here to hear the evidence. It's up to you 9           and other lawyers to decide who is relevant and 10          who ought to be called and who not to be called, 11          and the fact that you think they're relevant may 12          not be an opinion that's shared by other lawyers.

13                 I will ask Mr. Vertlieb, first of all, before 14          we take the break, the, the allegation, the charge 15          you made, that the families were treated unfairly 16          by his staff.

17   MR. VERTLIEB: Well, I must say that was a bit of surprise to 18          me, knowing Ms. Brooks and Ms. McKeachie and Ms.
19          Samnani and know how respectful they are, and I 20          was fully confident in their attempts to meet with 21          Mr. Ward's clients. And I, I know from the 22          e-mails that I have read to you earlier, there 23          were efforts made during the summer that were not 24          able to come to fruition. So, I am, frankly, not 25          able to respond to that comment. I've seen

1 nothing that suggested any of my colleagues were 2 anything other than totally respectful.

3 THE COMMISSIONER: Yes. I am concerned --

4 MR. VERTLIEB: I must say to you --

5 THE COMMISSIONER: I'm concerned that, that, that if the 6 families were treated unfairly, as Mr. Ward has 7 suggested, that's something that we should hear 8 about, because they shouldn't be treated unfairly.

9 MR. VERTLIEB: I would completely agree, and I have been here
10 for many days now, and none of, I have heard none 11 of that from the family members. What I have 12 seen, frankly, are family members approaching Ms.
13 Brooks to talk with her about matters, and Ms.
14 Brooks having to say, "Well, you already have a 15 lawyer, Mr. Ward."

16 THE COMMISSIONER: Yes.

17 MR. VERTLIEB: So, anyway, I can't deal with that in the 18 abstract. I have seen nothing. I think 19 everything about the --

20 THE COMMISSIONER: Okay.

21 MR. VERTLIEB: -- diligent staff we have contraindicates that 22 comment.

23 THE COMMISSIONER: Okay.

24 MR. VERTLIEB: But I do want to say, I think it's really 25 important for Mr. Ward to help the process by

1 focusing on the relevance of the people he's put 2 forward.

3 THE COMMISSIONER: Well, that's what I --

4 MR. VERTLIEB: For example, this Jane Smith, who he says is a 5 former sex worker, if you'd look at what he wrote 6 us at the bottom of page 2, but then listen to 7 what he said, it's very different. We've heard
8 nothing that this woman apparently had Pickton 9 tell her that he's responsible for killing women.
10 But that's not in his statement. Obviously, if he 11 had put that into his statement, we would be 12 curious to know more about that.

13 So, I mean, I must tell you that I, I don't 14 understand why we're only hearing now that this 15 potential witness would have an admission from Mr.
16 Pickton that would be really crucial. I don't 17 want to say that in a way that's critical of Mr.
18 Ward, but I just want you to know that we hadn't 19 heard that. We have the same information that you 20 have.

21 So, maybe during the break, Mr. Ward can 22 focus his thoughts on helping us understand what 23 evidence would be relevant so we can consider what 24 additions, if any, need to be made to the list.
25 That was what my request was.

1 THE COMMISSIONER: You see, that's my purpose here. I am not,
 2 I am not trying to be difficult for you, Mr. Ward.
 3 I just want to know how that's relevant. And the 4 point made by commission counsel is quite correct, 5 because when you read your will say here, it says
 6 nothing at all about the fact that, that Pickton
 7 admitted in 2000 and -- in 2000 that he had killed
 8 women. You don't put that down in your statement.
 9 So, is it any wonder that commission counsel
 10 doesn't agree with the relevance of the witnesses?
 11 I mean, you need to be better prepared here. So, 12 I'm, you know -- it doesn't take much to put that 13 in. That's pretty relevant, Mr. Ward, and you 14 don't have that down.

15 What I think we should do is for you and 16 commission counsel to sit down and go over each 17 and every one of these witnesses that you say 18 ought to be called and tell me how relevant they 19 are. It's not good enough just to say, "Well, 20 this is what they're going to say." How do they 21 fit within the terms of reference?

22 I don't want to, I don't want to thwart your, 23 the witness that you want to call. I want to 24 help. But it doesn't do much good if the 25 information that you give is incomplete. And with

1 the greatest of respect, when you leave out a 2 confession that Pickton apparently made, that's 3 incomplete. So, you have to put all of the 4 evidence in.

5 So, I'm, I think that there are two ways of 6 doing this. One is that you can sit down with 7 commission counsel and go over all of the 8 witnesses that you propose ought to be called, and 9 point out the relevance of the evidence and how 10 they would fit within the terms of reference. The 11 second way of doing it is for me to make rulings 12 as we go along. And that is, by that I mean that 13 we can hear the evidence, as it will be elicited 14 from the various witnesses who will be called from 15 the parties who are here, and if it becomes 16 apparent that these witnesses will add something 17 further to the terms of reference, then clearly 18 they should be called. But the information really 19 needs to be more complete, and I say that with 20 respect.

21 So, I am quite prepared to give you more time 22 to look at this and to see whether or not you can 23 complete the narrative, particularly as it relates 24 to relevance and how they would further the terms 25 of reference. So, are you agreeable to that?

1 MR. WARD: Well, here's, here's the thing. What you have in 2 your hand, Mr. Commissioner, is a very brief 3 list --

4 THE COMMISSIONER: Yes.

5 MR. WARD: -- that was prepared on, I think on the 6th of 6 December, --

7 THE COMMISSIONER: Yes.

8 MR. WARD: -- forwarded to commission counsel with a couple of 9 bullet points for each witness --

10 THE COMMISSIONER: Yes.

11 MR. WARD: -- setting out why they were relevant to the terms 12 of reference. None of what was contained in that 13 document was intended to be a will say. What I 14 had hoped was that your commission counsel would 15 take the approach that they apparently have taken 16 with respect to similar things received from Ms.
17 Tobias, --

18 THE COMMISSIONER: Yes.

19 MR. WARD: -- Ms. Gervais and Mr. Gratl. It seems that they 20 have just simply adopted their names of proposed 21 witnesses with whatever brief representations were 22 made, or they have had further discussions and 23 they have agreed to them. Whatever. I hoped that 24 would happen.

25 I, for whatever reason, seem to have a great

1 deal of difficulty in communicating with 2 commission counsel or in getting responses from 3 them on any number of matters. I was directed 4 that I would have to make these representations to 5 you. So, I have come here today, armed to make 6 fulsome submissions about each witness and their 7 relevance to the terms of inquiry.

8 I would rather not do that. I really wish we 9 were hearing from a witness, especially a police 10 witness who is actually involved in the subject 11 matter. But -- and I don't want to take up this 12 commission's time with anything that's 13 unnecessary. So, I am in your hands, 14 Mr. Commissioner. I am content to sit down with 15 commission counsel and make the fulsome
16 submissions directly to counsel at whatever time 17 is convenient, or I can continue with this 18 endeavor making them to you.

19 But I would suggest, and this would be my 20 preference, is that we get on with hearing
21 witnesses and we, we do this perhaps tonight. I 22 have to say though, I don't, at the moment, have 23 any confidence that sitting down with commission 24 counsel will produce any agreement.

25 MR. VERTLIEB: Having heard that, perhaps then Mr. Ward should

1           prepare his outline in writing. He doesn't need
 2           to do it today. We're at mid-December. We are on 3           track to start with witnesses in January. I
 4           understood you to say you are happy to give him 5           more time and that's absolutely fine for 6           ourselves --

7       THE COMMISSIONER: I don't -- I want to make one thing clear, 8           Mr. Ward. I want to help you pursue your case. I
 9           want to do that. But I need -- you need to help 10          me. And you can do that, you can, you can, first 11          of all, start by having a comprehensive analysis 12          or a comprehensive will say as to how these 13          witnesses are relevant. It's not for me to call 14          the witnesses. I would expect the lawyers will 15          agree, or should agree, that the witnesses ought 16          to be called. That's not for me to decide. It's 17          for me to decide how to conduct the inquiry. But 18          I would like to see the lawyers agree on who 19          should be called and who is relevant and who is 20          not relevant, and that's all I am asking you to 21          do.

22                 And so maybe that's the best thing to do, is 23                 for you to do an analysis or do a, a statement of 24                 the witnesses that you say are relevant, and what 25                 they expect to say and how they fit into the terms

1 of reference. And, and, and particularly where 2 there is a void in the evidence that we've heard, 3 or will be hearing, that would be of great 4 assistance to me, if we could do that. So --

5 MR. WARD: We are all here. I suggest we take the break. It's 6 a suggestion. I'm not trying to dictate that.
7 But we can consult with counsel and we can resolve 8 how to proceed further, taking those comments into 9 serious and careful consideration.

10 But we are ready today to support our 11 application for these witnesses and we want to do 12 it as effectively and as efficiently as possible
13 and get a result so we know how this difficult 14 matter is going to unfold.

15 THE COMMISSIONER: Okay, Mr. Baynham, you want -- you are 16 anxious to --

17 MR. BAYNHAM: No, I just wanted to speak before -- it's an 18 unrelated matter -- before the adjournment.
19 That's all.

20 THE COMMISSIONER: Oh, I see. Okay. Any other counsel have 21 any other comments here? Mr. Hern?

22 MR. HERN: Just, just a comment, is that I know that the 23 commission is under, you know, a timeframe that it 24 has spoken of before, and it has 50 witnesses on 25 the list. And I think that the distinction

1           between relevant and not relevant is sometimes 2           hard to make because this case is of sweeping 3           length of time and involves many, many people, 4           many, many different corners and subject matters.
 5           So, I think the distinction that should be 6           considered here is between witnesses who are truly 7           central and then witnesses who are peripheral or 8           repetitive as, as you have characterized them.

9           And so I think that the commission counsel's 10          effort here is to place -- is just to have the 11          central people first. And my, my view is that, as 12          the time, as we unfold going through those central 13          witnesses, we will (a) have a better sense of 14          whether there are other issues to be pursued, that 15          the more peripheral witnesses, as they appear now, 16          need to speak to; and secondly, whether there is 17          going to be enough time to be, to be able to call 18          everybody who might be characterized as broadly 19          relevant.

20          So, those are my -- that's my view. I think 21          that this, if they're peripheral witnesses, we 22          should hold off on putting them on the list now, 23          and then let's see how -- where we are toward the 24          end of January, if we are moving ahead faster.

25   THE COMMISSIONER: All right. Mr. Cooper or Ms. Gervais, do

1                   you have any comments?

2   MR. COOPER:   No, Mr. Commissioner.

3   THE COMMISSIONER:   Mr. Baynham, you don't have any?

4   MR. BAYNHAM:   I don't have any comment about that. Mr. Roberts
5                   just asked -- he had to leave -- he just asked me 6                   to have his binder marked as an exhibit for 7                   identification. I don't believe it has been.

8   THE COMMISSIONER:   Okay.

9   MR. BAYNHAM:   So, I think that's a pretty straightforward 10                  thing.

11   THE COMMISSIONER:   Okay. All right. Anything else from the 12                   Department of Justice?

13   JUDI HOFFMAN:   No, Mr. Commissioner.

14   THE COMMISSIONER:   All right. Is it going to be useful for us 15                   to adjourn now or am I -- I think it might be more 16                   productive if we, if we adjourn until tomorrow 17                   morning. We are here tomorrow morning, in any 18                   event, are we not?

19   MR. VERTLIEB:   We are. We are here to finish Deputy Chief 20                   LePard and Mr. Woodall has assured me he will be a 21                   maximum of two hours. We will have re-examination 22                   and then we can deal with it.

23                   But I must say that, having heard everything, 24                   and we've always been of the view that if there is 25                   evidence that's important to hear, we want to hear

1           it. I don't want Mr. Ward to feel rushed. I
 2           think it would help focus the mind, so to speak,
 3           to put it in writing so we can read. And I am 4           just disappointed that what we've seen isn't, 5           wasn't complete. And so rather than Mr. Ward feel 6           rushed to be on his feet with the submission, if 7           he focuses his, his mind to the written document, 8           it will help. And he's got lots of time between 9           now and the start-up of the hearings in January.
 10          I would prefer it to be done that way, because I 11          think it's more effective.

12                        Hearing everything I've heard, I don't -- I 13          wouldn't be suggesting that you make any order
 14          today anyway. I think what you would want to do 15          is hear how the evidence unfolds and then you 16          would be able to see where you have questions or 17          gaps or where you need some help, because it is 18          really about your function and what we can do to 19          help you. And you won't know that today. You 20          won't know that even when we're back in mid-21          January. So, there is, there is no rush to 22          conclude the list, and I wouldn't be recommending 23          you do that. But I do think Mr. Ward needs to 24          give us some more information.

25   THE COMMISSIONER: Well, that, you know, that's been my

1 concern, and I think sometimes we lose sight of 2 the fact that this is, this is an inquiry and not 3 a trial. And so, it's for a commissioner to 4 decide what evidence that he or she needs to hear 5 in order to address the terms of reference. And 6 we want to be as comprehensive as possible, but at 7 the same time, we don't have the luxury of 8 unlimited time where we can call every witness, 9 peripheral or not, to give what their testimony 10 will be. We want to hear all the relevant and 11 important evidence in order to address the 12 important terms of reference. This is an 13 important inquiry.

14 And so I'm not in any sense persuaded that 15 this, this witness list that Mr. Ward has prepared 16 is not relevant. I am not prepared to say that 17 his application should be dismissed. To the 18 contrary, he seems to have done some work here and 19 -- but I want to see a more comprehensive analysis 20 or, or at least a, a submission as to how these 21 witnesses will help me at the end of the day, and 22 not merely repeat what other witnesses are 23 expected to say. That's what I want to hear. You 24 are an experienced lawyer. You have done a lot of 25 these inquiries. So, I need to hear that from 1                   you.

2   MR. WARD:   Mr. Commissioner, I am here today because your 3                   counsel told us to do it this way, to make --

4   THE COMMISSIONER:   Oh, I see.

5   MR. WARD:   -- oral submissions to you.

6   THE COMMISSIONER:   Okay.

7   MR. WARD:   I am fully prepared to make those submissions and 8                   endeavor to persuade you why each and every 9                   witness on this list has relevant evidence to 10                  offer.  What I propose we do because -- well, what 11                  I would like to see happen today on behalf of my 12                  clients is that we bring on the next witness at 2 13                  o'clock, or as soon as we can, given that time 14                  seems to be at such a premium.

15                But I will propose two alternatives.  I can 16                carry on and make oral submissions to you or we 17                can have a discussion with Mr. Vertlieb and 18                present those submissions in a fulsome manner to 19                him, and if necessary, provide them in writing 20                after that.  But I am here today because I was -- 21                and I am disappointed I am here today.  I would 22                rather be doing any number of other things.  But 23                my requests and explanations for these witnesses
24                and explanations of their relevance got no
25                traction and I was told to speak to you in open

1                   hearing about it on this date.

2       THE COMMISSIONER:   Okay.

3       MR. WARD:   That's why I'm here.

4       THE COMMISSIONER:   Okay.  In any event, I have told you what my 5                   thinking is, and that is that I am not in a 6                   position to make any rulings one way or the other 7                   with respect to the witnesses that you want 8                   called, except to say that I want to hear all the 9                   relevant evidence that will help me make the 10                  finding, to help me make the findings at the end 11                  of the day.

12                 And so I, I would like you to, to develop 13                 your argument with respect to each witness and how 14                 they are, how important they are, from the 15                 arguments, from the perspective of the arguments
16                 that you will make at the end of the day.  And I 17                 have a pretty good idea already what you're going 18                 to say, but at the same time, there has to be an 19                 evidentiary basis for you to make that.

20                 So, I want to help you do this, but I need to 21                 have evidence within the parameters and within the 22                 rules.  And when I say that, I mean that I don't 23                 want to hear repetitive evidence.  I do want to 24                 hear evidence that will be helpful in addressing 25                 the terms of reference.

1           So, we'll adjourn until tomorrow. We will 2           hear the deputy chief and then we will deal with 3           these issues after -- in due course. And I, I 4           would think that maybe the best way of dealing 5           with this, as the evidence develops, and Mr. Hern
6           has I think suggested, made a suggestion that I 7           sort of refer to -- not as, not as eloquently as 8           he has -- that, that we hear the evidence, and 9           where there is a void in the evidence and where we 10          need to hear these witnesses that you say are 11          relevant, we'll hear them. So --

12   MR. WARD: Well, I couldn't agree more.

13   THE COMMISSIONER: All right.

14   MR. WARD: In light of my opening remarks, my submission is 15           that this commission has an obligation to follow 16           the evidence, wherever it may lead it, --

17   THE COMMISSIONER: Yes.

18   MR. WARD: -- provided it's within the terms of reference. And 19           I think I said, but I want to make sure I say 20           this, that it may be, as we start hearing from the 21           witnesses who actually have direct evidence to 22           offer, that we can further reduce the list, --

23   THE COMMISSIONER: Yes.

24   MR. WARD: -- because some will become unnecessary. And it may 25           well be, and probably likely will be, in my

1                   experience, that others will emerge --

2   THE COMMISSIONER:   Sure.

3   MR. WARD:   -- from the testimony as having critical evidence to 4                   offer --

5   THE COMMISSIONER:   Yes.

6   MR. WARD:   -- and we have to be flexible.

7   THE COMMISSIONER:   Yes.  I, I couldn't agree with you more.

8   MR. WARD:   So, I am disconcerted that I was obliged to come and 9                   lay out a list of witnesses at this early stage, 10                  and, and attempt to justify them before we've 11                  heard the evidence.

12   THE COMMISSIONER:   Yes, okay.  Well, you know, I don't know 13                    anything about that.  But in any event, that's not 14                    my area.  You know, I only hear the evidence.

15   MR. WARD:   So, thank you, and hopefully we'll start doing that 16                    again soon.

17   THE COMMISSIONER:   All right.  Thank you.

18   THE REGISTRAR:   Mr. Commissioner, before we adjourn, I would 19                    just like to clarify Mr. Baynham's request.  That 20                    was the binder for identification?

21   MR. BAYNHAM:   Yes, that was the binder that Mr. Roberts used in 22                    his cross-examination of Mr. LePard.

23   THE REGISTRAR:   Thank you.  That will be marked for 24                    identification as letter M.

25   THE COMMISSIONER:   All right.

1 THE REGISTRAR: Thank you.

2 MR. VERTLIEB: And on that subject, perhaps we could formally 3 mark the LePard documents as 41 and then A, B, C, 4 D, E, F, and mark those as --

5 THE COMMISSIONER: Okay.

6 MR. VERTLIEB: -- restricted from the website, and then 7 continuing as you outlined in your document 8 summary.

9 THE COMMISSIONER: Does anybody have any concerns about that?
10 All right, so ordered.

11 THE REGISTRAR: I will pass out a list of the exhibits as I 12 have numbered them.

13 MR. VERTLIEB: Thank you.
